

Dear Parents/Carers

Year 12 British Film Institute, London

Our Language Department is organising a film study day on Tuesday 5 December 2023 at the British Film Institute in London for Year 12 Spanish students. Students are studying a film as part of their A-Level course called "Volver" ("Return") and it is directed by one of Spain's most renowned film directors, Pedro Almodóvar.

The film study day will consist of travelling together by train, a screening of the film at the British Film Institute as well as a workshop where students will mix with other students and learn about the director's themes and styles.

This is a unique opportunity for students not only to really enhance their knowledge of the film and the director, but to also mix with students and teachers from other colleges and to share experiences and ideas.

The Total Cost for the trip will be £104, this will include a day travel card as well as entry to the British Film Institute.

Agenda

- 8am Meet at Seaford station to catch the train to London
